

“When at last I say good-bye,
Don't let your tears keep falling,
For when my time has come,
I'll hear my Savior sweetly calling.

And as He takes my hand,
All pain and cares will disappear,
And He will gently whisper,

‘Welcome home.
I'm glad you're here.’”

In Loving Memory Of ‘Monster J’

Aug 7, 1972 ~ March 18, 2024

When you went away,
I was left speechless
with nothing more to say.
My thoughts were left unclear,
The only thing I could muster was a single tear.
There was so much left for you to do,
Now the emptiness is all we have left without you.
If only I could have seen your smile once more,
But now I'm left shaken
and rattled to the core.
The Lord took you much too soon,
Now our world is left in nothing but ruin.
My brother, I know that I will again see you one day.
'Til then I have to keep hope alive
in my heart and not let it fade away.

~ From your brother Wilson
