

In Loving Memory Of Veretta Roubideaux-Gregg

Veretta was born to Mamie and Delmar Roubideaux in 1939. She married Paul Gregg, Sr. in January of 1967 until his passing in 2012.

Although she also worked, Veretta spent quality time as a homemaker raising her family. She cared for and loved all living beings, people and animals alike. She enjoyed laughing and had a great sense of humor.

Veretta loved going on nature walks, picking chokecherries, wild grapes by the river and gathering timsila. At home she also liked being outside mowing the yard, planting flowers and gardening. When she couldn't be outdoors, she did crossword puzzles and watched her favorite programs on TV.

Being an early riser, she started her day by listening to the radio and drinking 'cowboy coffee'. Two of her favorite songs were El Paso by Marty Robbins and Every Breath You Take by The Police.

She passed away peacefully at home surrounded by her daughters.

She was preceded in death by her husband; parents; sister Martha Hay; and 3 brothers: Melvin and Kenneth 'Sonny' Roubideaux and Stanley DuBray.

Veretta is survived by her children: Ron Roubideaux, Juanita Roubideaux, Rose (Jim) Kirchgesler, Carole Gregg and Gail Gregg; and numerous grandchildren, great grandchildren and great-great grandchildren.

In Celebration Of The Life Of

Veretta Muriel Roubideaux - Gregg

“Someday”

Someday perhaps at sunset
When the sky is all aglow
I'll hear an angel call my name
And bid my spirit to go
I'll leave this worn out body
That's been my earthly home
I'll be with God and loved ones
I shall not be alone

I don't want any tears or mourning
I don't want anyone to grieve
For it would only make you sad
And what would it achieve
Death is just a part of life
And I have lived my share
When the roll is called yonder
I want to be there
